

IP•CAL S
International Programs
College of Agriculture and Life Sciences

SRI-RICE

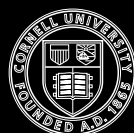

Building a Research Network: An analysis of journal articles on SRI in India

Shambu Prasad C

Tuesday January 28
3:30 – 4:30 p.m.
102 Mann Library
refreshments provided

Dr. Prasad, a Fulbright Senior Research Visiting Fellow with SRI-Rice, is a professor of rural management and development at the Xavier Institute of Management, Bhubaneswar, India. His research interests include policy studies and public systems management, innovation management, social entrepreneurship, development studies, ecosystem management, and rural livelihoods. He has documented the innovation history and institutional challenges on SRI in India and is active in policy dialogues through learning alliances at state and national levels. At this seminar he will share a recent analysis of the research publications on SRI in India and its implications for research policy.

For more information contact lhf2@cornell.edu

Cornell University